

Instructions:

1. Click on the html file “balatro”, and click the download button
2. Once you’ve downloaded the file (and its finished) go to “recent” in the files app
3. Open the file by double clicking on it.

Alternatively

Go to this this link

If you want to cloak the tab (about:blank) go here and select “balatro” (under “links”).

Issues (and fixes)

1. If the file opens (shows  on the top), but nothing works, go here and check to see if file:// has javascript access disabled (under “not allowed to use javascript”). If it does, use the website or look at sites hosting.
2. If you can’t download from the html file in the drive try going to the github, here, and click the download raw button. Or use this link to attempt direct download of the entire project.

Hosting (via google sites)

1. Go to sites, and make a new (blank) site.
2. Go to pages, hover over the plus symbol, and select “full page embed”.
3. Title it whatever you want then when the page loads, select “add embed”, then in the popup menu select “embed code”.
4. Go to this link, press ctrl+a and ctrl+c to copy everything, then paste the contents into the box on the google site.
5. Click publish twice, and then go to the url/preview (accessible from the top buttons).